Gisborne may best be considered what New Zealand is to the rest of the world – pristine, stunningly beautiful, bountiful and undiscovered. Gisborne plays an ionic role in the New Zealand wine industry, the first and for many years New Zealand's largest, commercial wine growing region. Gisborne remains New Zealand's 3rd largest wine growing region by volume.

Custom wine making for clients, with the ability to supply from single vineyard sourcing from the Gisborne and Marlborough growing regions.

Sustainability

Boasting distinctive sub-regions across the river valley and foot hills, our soils are fertile yet free draining. Combined with even rainfall distribution our soils do not require irrigation – "Dryland farming" making Gisborne the most naturally sustainable region in New Zealand.
